

Oakley Informer

The Oakley Informer currently has 205 subscribers, most of those receive a hard copy, with seven people receiving it by email and five people by a posted copy.

In January when the subscriptions are collected for the year, we usually lose a few but during the year the number picks up again.

Heather Smith has been the volunteer editor for the past two years and is now giving up due to heavy work commitments and studying. She is currently looking for a replacement and hopefully there is one on the horizon.

As with most other groups and organisations in the village it is edited, produced and delivered by a small band of volunteers.
